To Whom It May Concern:

I wanted to take this opportunity to commend the performance of Yang Enterprises, Inc. (YEI), following the highly successful completion of their subcontracts with I-NET on the Engineering Support Contract at Kennedy Space Center. YEI's performance and responsiveness on these contracts were EXCEPTIONAL. I-NET was 100% satisfied with the product of these services and will look to YEI as a preferred subcontractor for high technology services and products in the future. As well, NASA has expressed a high regard for this work in our recent contract evaluation.

The YEI assignments involved two tasks efforts - "Knowledge-based Autonomous Test Engineer (KATE)" and "The KSC Network Documentation System" - covering unusual disciplines of software development and networking engineering that are difficult to staff and typically involves significant "learning curves." These assignments involved artificial intelligence, knowledge-based reasoning, other advanced software and data base development, and network engineering. YEI exceeded our expectations in all aspects of managing and producing on the assignments by providing the appropriate mix of skills, talents, and flexible professionals. It is refreshing to find such a talented, hard-working, tenacious, personable, and respectable group of software and engineering professionals in a company that also helps us to meet our small disadvantaged business subcontracting goals.

It is my intention to include YEI as a potential source on all future Engineering Support Contract high technology procurement actions. I fully expect and welcome the opportunity to work with this fine company in the future.

Sincerely,

John L. Horan, Jr.

SUBJECT: LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Dear Mrs. Yang:

Please convey my personal thanks to all of the personnel in the MIS and Development Branch for the exemplary work they performed in advancing the introduction of Release-1 of the MIS from the end of March to the 5th of February. I know that all the individuals who supported this accelerated effort literally worked day and night to meet the new goals and get the job done. As demonstrated on Friday, February 5, they succeeded admirably.

This new release of our MIS will support both our SGS staff and our customers with secure web-based access to financial data, work control reporting, a metrics database, and more user friendly time entry. These enhanced features will allow us to provide more efficient and effective support to all our customers, and allow our customers near real-time insight into our job completion status.

We have many significant challenges ahead of us as we add additional features and further enhance our MIS. The professionalism your team demonstrated in developing Release-1 will become the standard for future releases. I am proud of your accomplishing such a difficult task on a grueling schedule.

Sincerely,

W. P. Hickman

Subject: Kennedy Space Center (KSC) Small Business Subcontractor of the Year -- 2008

Congratulations! KSC has selected Yang Enterprised Inc. for the Small Business Subcontractor of the Year Award.

Your firm was nominated for outstanding services based on your sustained superior support of the Checkout, Assembly and Payload Processing Services Contract.

Your nomination package was forwarded to HQ Office of Small Business Programs (OSBP) for NASA-wide consideration. The NASA-wide winners will be announced at the 2008 NASA Small Business Symposium & Awards Ceremony, which will take place November 17-18 at the Hilton Washington in Washington D.C. OSBP will be formally recognizing the center-level winners at the same event. You will be receiving further information from OSBP regarding the awards ceremony.

Yang has again chosen to participate in the Business Opportunities Expo 2008 which will be held on Tuesday, October 21, 2008. Look forward to seeing you there.

Again, congratulations on your award.
