Aspects of Workforce Programs That Relate to Priority of Service

This attachment identifies some aspects of workforce programs that are outside the direct scope of priority of service but that relate to the implementation of priority of service in an operational environment, including:

- Program eligibility and priority of service;
- Relevance of the Jobs for Veterans State Grants to priority of service;
- Exclusion of VA funded training from coordination with WIA training; and,
- Implications of priority of service for other workforce programs and processes.

These four topics are treated in the sections that follow.

1) PROGRAM ELIGIBILITY AND PRIORITY OF SERVICE

Two aspects of program eligibility relate to effective implementation of priority of service. The first is the exemption of military income from consideration in determining eligibility for those programs that have a statutory requirement to serve low-income individuals. The second is the verification of the status of veterans and eligible spouses that is required by some workforce programs as part of their eligibility determination and enrollment processes. Both aspects are treated below.

- a) Exemption of Military Service-Related Income. Program operators responsible for programs that include income criteria in the eligibility rules or targeting policies (such as the WIA formula programs) should note that many types of income related to military service are not to be included when determining if a covered person meets "low income" eligibility standards or targeting policies. The WIA regulations (20 CFR 667.255) state, in accordance with 38 U.S. Code Part 4213, that "any amounts received as military pay or allowances by any person who served on active duty, and certain other specified benefits must be disregarded when determining if a person is a 'low-income individual' for eligibility purposes."

All pay and/or financial allowances earned while a veteran was on active duty are exempt. Title 38 U.S.C. 4213 also exempts from inclusion in "low income" calculations any financial benefits received by a covered person under the following Chapters of Title 38 of the U.S. Code:

11. Compensation for service-connected disability or death.
13. Dependency and indemnity compensation for service-connected deaths.
30. All-volunteer force educational assistance program.
31. Training and rehabilitation for veterans with service-connected disabilities.
35. Survivors' and dependents' educational assistance.
36. Administration of educational benefits

Also excluded from "low income" calculations are benefits received under Chapter 106 of Title 10 U.S. Code, Educational assistance for members of the selected reserve.

In contrast to the various types of military income and benefits identified above that are exempt from inclusion in low-income calculations, certain other types of military-related income are not exempt. Specifically, pension payments authorized by Title 10 U.S. Code, such as those received by military retirees whether or not their retirement was based on disability, are not exempt and are to be included in “low income” calculations. Also not exempt are pension benefits paid under Chapter 15 of Title 38 U.S. Code.

- b) Verification of the Status of Veterans and Eligible Spouses. As indicated in the guidance document, verification of status for veterans and eligible spouses is not required in order to provide priority of service. However, to the extent that the programs providing priority of service have their own requirements regarding verification of the status of veterans and eligible spouses, it is a matter that relates to the effective implementation of priority of service by those programs. Accordingly, some preliminary guidance is provided below.

The status of a veteran or an eligible spouse can be verified by referring a variety of official documents, including, but not limited to:

- A DD 214 (issued following separation from active duty);
- An official notice issued by the Department of Veterans Affairs that establishes entitlement to a disability rating or award of compensation to a qualified dependent;
- An official notice issued by the Department of Defense that documents the eligibility of an individual, based on the missing or detained status of that individual’s active duty spouse; or
- An official notice issued by a State veterans’ service agency that documents veteran status or spousal rights, provided that the State veterans’ service agency requires Federal documentation of that information.

To mitigate the burden of establishing proof of covered person status, States also may establish other means for verifying status, such as electronic communication with official databases, such as those maintained by State veterans’ service agencies, provided that the organizations responsible for those sources can certify the accuracy of their records and have effective procedures for matching their records with the covered persons seeking services. As indicated in the Preamble to the regulations, the Department intends to issue further guidance on this matter in the future.

2) RELEVANCE OF THE JOBS FOR VETERANS STATE GRANTS PROGRAM

The Veterans’ Employment and Training Service (VETS) provides Jobs for Veterans State Grants (JVSG) to the States to support the program activities and services provided by the One-Stop Career Centers for veterans. The JVSG funds support the appointment and assignment of Disabled Veterans’ Outreach Program (DVOP) Specialists and Local Veterans Employment Representatives (LVERs). The definitions of veterans and “other eligible persons” applicable to services provided by DVOP and LVER staff are different from and narrower than those which are applicable within the priority of service “covered person” definition (e.g., for veterans other than those whose service time was limited by discharge due to disability, 181 days or more of active duty time is required). So, the universe of individuals eligible for services by the DVOP and LVER staff is a subset of the broader universe of individuals entitled to priority of service by the Jobs for Veterans Act.

Operators of programs subject to the priority of service regulations are strongly encouraged to establish effective linkages with the State JVSG program staff, for two-way referrals of individuals for services. Such linkages would be advantageous to the individuals in need of services, and also to the program operators. The JVSG program staff members perform case management services for veterans and other eligible persons who require intensive employability development services, and also focus on employer relations activities to develop jobs for veterans and other eligible persons. Another significant aspect of the JVSG program is the partnering of those specialists with the military services to provide transition services to men and women leaving active duty and returning to civilian life, and involvement in Reserve and National Guard units' de-activation activities when those personnel end their active duty stints and return to civilian life. Effective linkages between those veterans program specialists and all qualified job training programs subject to the priority of service requirements would help to achieve the underlying purpose of the priority of service requirements, by establishing effective means of outreach to a significant portion of the universe of covered persons, and communication of information about employment and training opportunities offered in local communities by qualified job training programs.

3) EXCLUSION OF VA FUNDED TRAINING FROM "OTHER GRANT ASSISTANCE" IN COORDINATION WITH WIA FUNDED TRAINING

Section 134(d)(4)(B) of WIA, as well as the WIA regulations at 20 CFR 663.310 refer to the requirement to coordinate WIA funded training with "other grant assistance," such as Pell grants. In some service delivery environments, these provisions have been interpreted to mean that veterans or spouses who are eligible for the GI Bill or other forms of VA funded education or training are required to coordinate their entitlement to those benefits with their eligibility for WIA funded training. In some circumstances, this has been further interpreted to mean that the VA funded training entitlement must be exhausted before the veteran or spouse can be enrolled in WIA funded training. VA benefits for education and training services clearly are not included in the statutory and regulatory category of "other grant assistance." Therefore, veterans and spouses are not required to coordinate their entitlement to those benefits with any concurrent eligibility that they may have for WIA funded training (and therefore, should not preclude them from receiving WIA funded services). Similarly, WIA program operators may not require veterans or spouses to exhaust their entitlement to VA funded training benefits prior to allowing them to enroll in WIA funded training.

4) IMPLICATIONS OF PRIORITY OF SERVICE FOR OTHER WORKFORCE PROGRAMS AND PROCESSES

Below are some of the programs and processes that are impacted by priority of service.

- a) Unemployment Insurance Programs That Interface with Services. The Worker Profiling and Reemployment Services (WPRS) program and the Reemployment and Eligibility Assessments (REA) each apply specified criteria to identify certain categories of Unemployment Insurance (UI) claimants who are required to report in-person to a service delivery location, typically a One-Stop Career Center. Claimants are directed to report to a specific location at a specific time and the failure to comply with the requirement to report as directed raises an issue on the claim, which must be resolved. This may lead to disqualification for an extended period or a determination of ineligibility for a shorter time. The intent of the requirement to report is to reinforce compliance with eligibility requirements including ability to work, availability for work and actively seeking work, and other requirements for eligibility.

Prior guidance applicable to WPRS referred to the requirement to report as a "referral." That designation implied delivery of a service, which would result in the application of priority of service at this step of the call-in process. This guidance clarifies that, for both WPRS and the REAs, the requirement to report, including the written notice provided to claimants, is not considered to be a service and, therefore, priority of service does not apply at this point in the selection process. Policy guidance directs that both WPRS and REA claimants should be referred to services as appropriate, thus some claimants may receive reemployment services and others may not. This distinction is based both on the availability of reemployment services and on the needs of the claimant. This guidance clarifies that, upon reporting in-person to a service delivery location, those claimants required to report under WPRS or REA who are veterans or eligible spouses are entitled to priority of referral to available reemployment services or to any other qualified job training program for which they are eligible.

Priority of service applies to all referrals to any qualified job training program(s) for which a veteran or eligible spouse is eligible, regardless of the organizational affiliation or funding source of the staff members who come into contact with claimants who are veterans or eligible spouses at the service delivery location. In addition, upon referral to a qualified job training program, the priority of service requirement includes priority for enrollment in the program, as well as priority for participation in the full range of services available through the program.

- b) One-Stop Career Center Services. Because One-Stop Career Centers offer various types of services including staff-assisted services as well as guidance and materials, State and local boards must immediately assess their current operations for compliance purposes and improvement opportunities, if they have not already done so.
- c) National Programs. National programs that statutorily target certain segments of the population must ensure the implementation of the principles outlined in this guidance in order to assure that the dual intentions of Congress - service to targeted population(s) and priority of service to veterans and eligible spouses - are simultaneously accomplished.
- d) Self-Service Tools. Any informational or service delivery Web site developed with funding from a qualified job training program or grant will be expected to provide information on priority of service for veterans and eligible spouses, and how to access assistance from any applicable program or grant via the nearest One Stop Career Center. It is important to note that self-service instructions will be expected to go beyond mention of or referral to Local Veterans' Employment Representatives and Disabled Veterans' Outreach Program specialists.
