Since staff salaries are not eligible for the 10% administrative fee, what are some examples of administrative costs that might be eligible?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | F.S 288.980 (3) (a) The term “activities” as used in this section means studies, presentations, analyses, plans, and modeling. For the purposes of the Florida Defense Infrastructure Grant Program, the term “activities” also includes, but is not limited to, construction, land purchases, and easements. Staff salaries are not considered an “activity” for which grant funds may be awarded. Travel costs and costs incidental thereto incurred by a grant recipient shall be considered an “activity” for which grant funds may be awarded.
3.7 Grant recipients may only be reimbursed for allowable project costs resulting from obligations incurred during the Agreement period.
You would need to submit in your application the item(s) and cost of what you would need to complete your project if you are submitting under the administrative cost category.                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
