1A - MIDTOWN COMMERCE CENTER

The City of St. Petersburg ("City") has focused on the 18th Avenue South corridor as a potential center of economic development for an underserved part of its community ("Midtown").

The Midtown Commerce Center will be developed on a 2.3 acre "Parcel" located at 2100 – 18th Avenue South in St. Petersburg through a public-private partnership whereby the City will provide a ground lease to a private partner, TLM Investment Group I, LLC, who will provide the necessary resources to develop the Parcel into a fully operational commerce center.

The commerce center currently has letters of intent signed by four businesses (industry types listed below, #1F) ready to employ a total of 25-30 new jobs when opened with a projected 56 new jobs when fully stabilized. These jobs would be new to the City and the state of Florida. None of these businesses are relocating.

The site clearing and construction has already begun (see photos below, #2K); however, the grant's approval would provide the additional capital necessary to allow the public-private partnership to extend favorable lease terms to all of the new business in order to provide them with the best opportunity for long-term survival and maximum job hiring potential.

1E – THE GRANT LEVERAGES CONTINUED ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Midtown has traditionally been under-served with basic services such as medical services, dentistry, groceries, gas stations, and other common conveniences. The infrastructure improvements will allow the Midtown Commerce Center to open with full occupancy and help ameliorate the current medical and food desert in Midtown.

The improvements will create the foundation and economic catalyst for the commerce center construction to create 56 jobs*, and diversify the employment make-up of the surrounding under-served area. All the new businesses including the medical center will be new businesses (not relocations) providing expanded services and new jobs in the area.

The successful launch of the Midtown Commerce Center will also enhance the market feasibility of another development – a larger parcel directly opposite the street and north of this property. The development plans for the adjacent property anticipate inclusion of other services that are lacking in the area. We anticipate the Midtown Commerce Center will stimulate the commercial expansion of this property.

This grant would result in an immediate private investment of $5.0 million (total construction costs and the new businesses' investments) in an underserved Opportunity Zone and greatly increase the possibility of an additional estimated $5.0 million in private investment across the street.

 The jobs are net new jobs to St. Petersburg and Florida.*

CITY OF ST. PETERSBURG ADMINISTRATIVE POLICY

#010202

SUBJECT: Signature Authority

APPROVAL: Riek Baker, Mayor

EFFECTIVE DATE: 12/09/04

REPLACES POLICY DATED: 6/11/02

Synopsis: The Mayor is authorized to delegate employees to sign their own names to those contracts, letters, and/or other instruments pertaining to the operations of their respective operational responsibilities which the Mayor is authorized to execute on behalf of the City.

Policy:

1. The Mayor is authorized within the City Charter to sign and execute certain contracts. He is further authorized to delegate designated employees to sign their own names to such contracts under his authority.
2. Contracts incorporating "hold-harmless" agreements wherein the City indemnifies other parties must be approved by City Council. However, the Mayor or his designee may execute routine contracts containing an indemnification provision without City Council approval provided such contracts would not otherwise require Council approval but for the indemnification provision, that the indemnification is limited to the extent provided by law and the liability limits of F.S.S.768.28, and does not alter the waiver of sovereign immunity.
3. Recordable instruments, such as real estate deeds and real estate leases for a duration of one year or more, must be signed by the Mayor or City Administrator personally, except that, once all action required by City Council has been taken, (a) liens associated with utility accounts and special assessments may be signed by the Internal Services Administrator, and (b) mortgage documents associated with a housing program where the City is the mortgagor may be signed by the Manager, Housing Finance and Rehabilitation or the Housing and Community Development Director.
4. The Mayor will personally sign all contracts, letters, and/or other legal instruments which relate to major policy issues or which are otherwise particularly significant, unusual, non-routine, or extraordinary. Agency Administrators shall ensure that items of this nature are identified and brought to the Mayor for personal consideration. Documents related to the application, acceptance or reporting of grants will be signed by the City Administrator.
5. Delegated signature authority is to be carefully controlled for the purpose of ensuring that the need to carefully review and consider contracts and other legal instruments is appropriately balanced against the need to manage City operations in an orderly and expeditious manner. Agency Administrators shall ensure that this authority is not delegated below an appropriately responsible level.
