SIDES
NASWA State Information Data Exchange System
In Partnership with USDOL

One great solution to respond to unemployment insurance claims.
Two ways to connect

Online
E-Response

For employers with a limited number of UI claims, connection is easy through the SIDES E-Response website that can be used to enter the requested UI information.

- Easy to access website
- No programming needed
- No cost to users
- Electronic notification of claims from most states
- Download response forms

System Integration
UI SIDES

For large and/ or multi-state employers, connection through a computer-to-computer interface may be more appropriate as it allows employers to customize their system to interface with SIDES. This option requires employer programming.

- Integrate directly into current software
- Receive requests from all states daily in a single file
- Ability to create customized work flow
- Access to administrative reporting to track transaction progress

Unemployment Insurance (UI) State Information Data Exchange System (SIDES) is a web based system that allows electronic transmission of information regarding UI claims between UI agencies and employers.

Benefits

- Lost responses are a thing of the past.
- With direct online communication, feel confident knowing information was transmitted correctly. Nationally consistent format for any size business.
- Eliminate submission errors with SIDES' consistent intuitive format.
- Handles details so employers can focus on business. The innovative digital process reduces personnel time and effort.
- Enhances the integrity of the UI system. SIDES reduces UI tax rates and waste in the system.
